Love Care Respect

We are into July already!

It has been fairly quiet without Newton this week because they have been on their residential. I saw them on Tuesday morning and they were having a great time lighting their own camp fires. Lots of them have conquered their fears by climbing and abseiling. A huge thank you to Mrs Denham, Mrs Allison and Mr Pragnell for taking them. It is the most exhausting three days a teacher experiences because they are looking after so many children- so thank you.

Today, your child will have a letter stating what class they will be in for the next academic year. It does include updates with staffing.

Tomorrow, we have the Summer Fayre which starts after school. I think the weather forecast looks good.

I think it is going to be hot yet again next week. The temperatures are not set to go above 30 at the moment but I am going to say that children can wear PE kit all next week. Please don't forget to supply them with a water bottle and a sun hat.

Tomorrow, there are class photos and Year 6 group photos being taken by David Wiltshire.

Our Year 6 children who are moving to Kingdown in the new academic year have their induction days next Tuesday and Wednesday.

We have our Moving Up morning on Wednesday 8th July. Children will go straight to their new classrooms on this day.

Next Thursday is the Key Stage 2 disco between 6-7.30pm. More information will be coming home next week. I am hoping that it isn't too hot, but I will be monitoring the heat and temperature situation.

Next Friday, school reports will be sent home. In addition to this, Year 6 have their Leavers fun afternoon with Mr Martin and then after school games with the staff and parents.

The new system for lunches started on Tuesday. The food tasted very nice and it was all very organised. Thank you to Mrs Peachey Derrick and the staff for making it work.

Message from the PTA

After being postponed last Friday the Summer Fayre is now taking place tomorrow, Friday 3rd July 3-5pm. Cash and card available with cash tokens on sale as well. Everything will be exactly the same, except the weather is much more bearable!

The last Ice Cream Friday will be on Friday 10th July.

A massive thank you to Alex and Jack Poole who ran a stall at last weekend's Codford Fete on behalf of the PTA and raised £225!

Best regards,

Callie
